RACING AT MONMOUTH PARK

ONE OF THE DULLEST DAYS OF THE YEAR.

POOR SPORT, TAME BETTING AND MISERABLE

Stretched at full length on the lawn at Monmouth Park yesterday, not one hundred feet from the judges' stand, and in full view of the spectators three of the patrons of the track lay in peaceful slumber during the running of the fourth and fifth No one thought of disturbing them. In facwas almost a feeling of envy among the of servers who sat and sweltered on the grandstand tooking for two things that did not come-a breeze and some racing that they could thoroughly enjoy It was by far the poorest day's sport of this season it Menmouth, for it was without a single redeeming feature. The attendance was in keeping with the racing, light and listless, most of those present re hing themselves for having made the journe needless to say there were no regrets to heard when the last race was run the ring the bookmakers coaxed and pleaded business that came not, in some cases raising their odds above those of their neighbors to draw a customer. They were solaced a little, however, by way in which the favorites were vanquished. Roller and Cactus being the only successful ones of the afternoon. The victory of Baroness in the third race was the startling surprise of the week. So 60 to 1 could be obtained against her. Her owners did not think her good enough to win, but backed her in the full place books. Her race was a revelation to them, the time, 1:07 12 being remarkably She is by The Bard out of Ella Lakeland, and looks like a filly that will improve with racing. This same stable furnished the favorite for the fifth race in Terrapin, who had run second to John Cooper on Tuesday. Yesterday he got away poorly, yet it made no marked difference in the result so lar as he was concerned, as he did not improve his position, seeming to have lost his speed completely. RACING AT BRIGHTON BEACH.

It was again demonstrated at Brighton Beach vesterday that ordinary horses can, and do, furnish interesting racing. The card was excellent and drew out a good-sized crowd. As usual the favorites won most of the races much to the delight of the spectators. The form of the horses at the Beach can be relied upon in nearly every instance, and this speaks well for the trees.

A match was arranged yesterday for next Manlay, to take place before the first race between Japonics and Martinad for 41.000 a side at five furnouss, each horse to tarry 130 pounds.

Third race—One mile and a quarter. Hiltrard, 100 (E. Fribe) 4 to 1, won: Baylor, 108 (H. Jones) 6 to 5, wood: King Leo, 29 (I. Lambler), 10 to 1, third lens S. Japonica, Belle of Orange, Blue Elood and Don't Jowa also tan. Time—2:11.

A TRAINER'S NOTES ON THE TURF.

The racing of Monmouth Park yesterday was far be in the history of the turf have so common-place fields faced the starter to race for $1,000 purses. The card at Brighton Beach was more attractive than that at Mor mouth, although the purses are not half so valuable : Brighten as at Monmouth Park. The attendance, like th programme, was extremely light. There were not over 1,500 persons present. The bookmakers complained that there was no business. One of them said: "The Trib une accuses us of fleecing lambs. It is a mistake. The lambs avoid Monmouth Park, and the bookmakers have to skin sharks and wolves." Another bookmaker said tha a majority of the occasional race-goers went to Brighton Beach, where there were large fields and a chance to be on the Monmouth races in the so-called foreign books.

The racing caused no enthusiesm. In the first race
Roller was a 1 to 4 favorite. He won as he pleased

Woodchopper was second. Alonzo, who carried a los money for place honors, was beaten a length. In the second race Wormser was made the favorite

In the second race wormser was made the ravorte by the weight of G. E. Smith's money. Bonaventure, who was backed by some shrewd speculators, won by a neek from Wormser, who beat Accident a length.

The race for two-year-old maiden fillies furnished the surprise of the day. Nahma was the favorite at 8 to 5 Enchantress and Micmae Queen had a strong following It was a pretty race from flag-fall to finish, half the field running head and head to within fifty yards of the end. Bonaventure and Wormser then began to draw ished her severely, but it was of no avail. Joyner yelled his friends.

The card for to-day shows an improvement over yesterday's card, but it is extremely doubtful that the usual saturday erowd will be present.

J. G. Follansbee said yesterday that business prevents him from racing a stable of horses. "I intend to return to the turf," he added, "when my affairs are arranged so that I can devote the entire summer to

THE BICYCLE RACES AT ASBURY PARK.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 21 (Special).—The bicycle tournament of the Asbury Park Wheelmen opened to-day at the athletic grounds on the bank of Deal Lake. Four thousand persons saw the races. Arthur Zimmerman took part and was in fine form. There was no meeting between Zimmerman, Windle and Tyler. Windle was entered but could not get here in time. Tyler was present bend but could not get here in time. Tyler was present and won a pretty race against a strong field. N. E. Kaufman, the trick rider, picased the crowd with his exhibitions of fancy riding. The races will be continued to morrow, and it is announced that Zimmerman, Windle and Tyler will surely meet in at least one of the contests. The following is the summary of to-day's races:

One-mile novice—Remile L. Smith, Asbury Park, came in first in 2:50. As a time limit of 2:50 had been fixed, there was no race.

MASCOT'S FAST TIME IN THE FREE-FOR-ALL-GUY LOWERS HIS RECORD.

Detroit, July 21 (Special).-The Detroit Grand Circult trotting meeting closed with sensational harness racing today. The free-for-all pacing race, which norsemen generally espected would prove little morthan a walkaway for Flying Jib, developed into a than a walkaway for Fiving Jib, developing and great contest. Mascot winning at the end of the fastest five beats on recerd. It was the first contest that ever brought together the three great pacers, Mascot, Hal Pointer and Flying Jib. The mile in Mascot, Hal Pointer and Flying Jib. The mile in 2:05 1-2, which the last named horse paced at Saginaw last week, sent him to the post a hot favorite over the most formidable held of side-wheelers ever seen on any track. Phoebe Wilkes repeated her winning Phisburg performance in the 2:18 class race, but the great more was not at her best to day, and she won with little to spare. The con-solution race of the 2:24 trotters was an easy thing for the flashy counterfeit Silver star. The $5,000 novelty race went to the young horse Ellard without much of a contest. By the peculiar conditions of the race the two horses ranking best at the end of three heats retired with first and second money. while the others trotted two more heats to decide third and fourth prizes. It was a poor departure in harness racing. The old horse Guy, starting to beat lds record of 2:10 3-4, trotted in 2:00 3-4. Sam-2:18 CLASS-PACING-PURSE #1,500.

A letter from Sand Point, Alaska, under date of carried the flames to the beautiful Roman Catholic June 29, gives some new facts in regard to the poacher. The schooner J. R. White, which has adjoining it in Fifth-st. A moment later a voice arrived from Hakodate, reports that when she left was heard above the roaring flames crying; that port the Alexandria had only 1,000 skirs. What she proposed to do was a mystery, but the impression at Hakodate was that Captain Mcleat had staked out Island City. The firemen concentrated all their some rookeries on the Russian coast and proposed to make a raid on them. The sealers say the Alexandria cannot be maintained for less than $2.500 n month. It would be a dead loss, therefore, for her to depend upon pelagic scaling. Hence they argue that shaft of the East River tunnel. Scarcely twenty McLean known of large rookeries which he can devessel would not have been fitted out had not when seals will be most fell to the ground with a great crash just as the plentiful, and get enough skins in two or three days clock on the tower struck the hour of 1. The flames to pay his owners a handsome profit. What bears out this theory is that the Alexandria is provided with a large number of clubs, similar to those used ruins. Policemen Bushman and Cameron ran from on the Pribylov Islands to knock seals on the head. If she were intended for pelagic senling she would not carry these clubs.

They were married by a justice of the peace in Mount Vernon. It is said the young woman is worth $50,000. Her father in new home. Hearn estimates his loss at $1,700. The progress of the flames toward fourth-st, was unchecked and the pine bulletings there were soon a mass of fire. The corner house at the intersection with Jackson-ave, was owned by Governor Flower. It was in the course of erection, it contained a quantity of inflammable material. There the flames raged the flercest. It was found that there was not enough hose to stretch more than one line to the house. Soot of the engines had to step work, as their supply of coal gave out. There was no water to be had anywhere. The Governor's building went down and house after house fed after it.

Scheffe had forbidden his daughter to receive Mar-tinengo's attentions, and was furious when he learned of the clopement. He tried to overtake the couple, but only reached Mount Vernon us the train bearing the couple was pulling out for New-York.

He was thrown to the states Expects Company. He was thrown to the coat, while the horse dashed up Passale-ave. Several children had narrow escapes. Mr. Cavanaugh was felly bruised.

ASSAULTED IN JANUARY, DIED LAST NIGHT,

About 2 o'clock, when the wind was at its height, Dr. McKeon brought word that the new Fifth Ward schoolhouse, half a mile northwerd, was on fire. One of the Brooklyn fire regimes was quickly sent to the school, and, owing to the prompt work of Chief Vale, the flames there were soft under control.

From Governor Flewer's reddence the flames spread to Conway's three-story house, then to Kelly's flivery stable and to the soda water establishment of Owen Clark. Thence they leaped across Fourthest, to the opposite corner of Jackson-ave., and burned to the ground the two large frame rookeries of a blacksmith, Wright, and a wheelwright, Marshall. A little later the fire was under control.
